Professional Learning Units

To receive PLU credits, complete the form in the registration packet and return it to the registration desk before 3:00 PM on Monday.

Silent Auction

Thank you to all who donated to our silent auction. Proceeds from this year's auction will go to assisting select physical education programs in North Carolina affected by Hurricane Florence.

It will be located in the Lobby from Sunday 1:00-4:00 PM through Monday 8:00-4:00 PM.

Winners can pick up their items Monday at 4:15 PM. GAHPERD will accept cash only. Thank you for supporting this wonderful cause.

Superstars

Calling all future professionals! Plan to participate in the annual Superstars competition Monday 2:40-4:30 PM in Grand Hall 1-3. Battle against other colleges and universities for bragging rights and a grand prize!

Emergencies

In case of emergency, contact the Classic Center front desk and relay the nature of the emergency. Also, please report the emergency to the GAHPERD registration desk as soon as possible.

Lost and Found

Turn in or claim lost and found items to the GAHPERD registration desk during open hours.

Voting

Candidates for the 2018-2019 GAHPERD Executive Board are listed on page 4. Additional members interested in serving on the executive board should submit their name at the registration desk by Monday at 8:00 AM.

Ballots will be cast Monday from 8:00 AM - 12:00 PM. Members will vote for President-Elect, Vice-President-Elects, and a Member at Large from their district. New board members will be presented in the General Session Tuesday at 12:00 PM in Athena E.

Welcome

Georgia AHPERD Members,

On behalf of the GAHPERD Board, WELCOME to Athens and the 2018 GAHPERD Convention! Athens is a city known for its classic architecture, trendy shops, diverse dining, and of course football. We hope your experiences in Athens are memorable and your expectations for the convention are exceeded. The Convention Committee, led by Christy Crowley, has worked hard to provide you with opportunities to learn from some of the leading experts in the field of health, physical education and dance. This year's keynote speaker, Dr. JoAnne Nauslar-Owens, is one of the country's most vocal personalities on the issue of physical activity. Be sure to join us Monday at 1:30 PM for the General Session to be inspired and motivated by "Dr. Jo".

The 2018 convention theme is BE THE ONE! Your presence is an indication that you are committed to BE THE ONE not only in your school, but the state of Georgia. It is our hope that you leave Athens with a renewed sense of purpose and a wealth of new ideas.

Best,
Babs Greene

Keynote Speaker

Dr. JoAnne Owens-Nauslar

Be a Possibilitarian!

Monday • 1:30 PM

Dr. JoAnne Owens-Nauslar has spent 47 years promoting the benefits of healthy active living. She is considered one of the nation's most vocal personalities on issues of physical activity and health literacy for children. Dr. Jo has been described as Past President of almost everything, including the National Association for Sport and Physical Education, SHAPE America, SHAPE Nebraska, Central District SHAPE America, Husker Softball "On Deck Circle," and Husker Athletic Fund. She has presented at numerous SAM and state HPER conferences.

Dr. Owens-Nauslar has taught at all levels. She has served as the State Director for Comprehensive Health and Physical Education at the Nebraska Department of Education for over 19 years and as the Director of Professional Development for the American School Health Association for nine years.

JoAnne is a Fellow in the American School Health Association and the North American Society for Health, Physical Activity, and Dance & Sport. Former AAHPERD acknowledgements include Mabel Lee and R. Tait McKenzie Awards. She was inducted in the inaugural group of Newcastle (WY) High School Hall of Fame, acknowledging her trailblazing efforts for girls/women and sport (2013). The University of Nebraska-Lincoln presented her the Athletic Trailblazer Award for her contributions to Physical Education and Women's Athletics at UNL (2010). She has received The Distinguished Alumni Award from Chadron State College and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. In September 2016, Chadron State College selected JoAnne as one of eight to be inducted into the inaugural group of the Trailblazer Legacy Award for contributions to Health, Physical Education, and girls/women in sport.

JoAnne currently serves on the Nebraska Sports Council Cornhusker State Games Board of Directors and was a founding Board Member 27 years ago. Additionally, she is Trustee Director at Chadron State College, serves on the Lincoln Girls and Women in Sport and Fitness Committee and speaks annually at the Lincoln Marathon and Beginner's Luck (Novice Runners) Training Sessions. JoAnne also raises Texas Longhorn and Angus cattle, Paint horses, llamas, and goats at Big-E-Nuff Ranch in Nebraska.

Gabe Ervin

Since graduating from Appalachian State University in 2000 with a degree in physical education, Gabe has taught P.E. within the Catawba County Schools district. Seventeen of those years have been at Startown Elementary School. Gabe serves as a leader in the profession by mentoring numerous student teachers from Appalachian State University and Lenoir Rhyne University. North Carolina Elementary Physical Education teacher of the year (2016), National Board Certification (2013), Startown Elementary School teacher of the year (2005, 2015), finalist for Catawba County Schools' teacher of the year (2015) and Puckett-Merriman Award (2018) are among his many accomplishments. As a Physical Education teacher, his passions include integrating common core/subject area curriculum into P. E. activities and creating innovative yet inexpensive equipment and games. Gabe's love for physical education isn't limited to the school day. He leads Startown's P.E. Club that consists of 3rd-6th grade students who perform in the areas of unicycling and jump roping at venues that include high school, college and NBA basketball halftime shows. Gabe believes strongly that sharing ideas amongst colleagues and working collaboratively is essential for continued growth in the field of physical education.

Gabe resides in the Startown community with his wife Allyson, a fourth grade teacher at Startown School; son Vance, a fourth grader at Startown School; and daughter Gigi, a kindergartener at Startown School. Gabe not only makes physical fitness a priority in his professional life, but in his personal life as well by being an avid cyclist and runner.

Charla Krahnke

Charla is the 2013 SHAPE National HS PE TOY, 2013 Southern District TOY and 2013 NCAAPERD TOY. She is a National Board Certified Teacher with a BS in Health/Physical Education from East Carolina University and Masters in Education/Exercise Science from Campbell University. Charla retired July 2014 after 32 years of teaching and coaching from the Wake County School System in NC. Charla is currently working as a Physical Education consultant and presenter for US Games/OPEN across the United States. Presentations include OPEN, Physical Education Assessments and the Sport Education Model. Charla has been with US Games/OPEN 5 years.

Melanie Lynch

Melanie Lynch graduated from Penn State University with a Bachelor's degree in Kinesiology. She then earned her Master's degree, also at Penn State, in Counselor Education with an emphasis on eating disorders and chemical dependency. Melanie is in her 22nd year as a Health Education Specialist at North Allegheny Intermediate High School. It is Melanie's passion to create and find skills-based lesson plans that will engage students in the classroom in order to enhance their health literacy, while also having a darn good time in class.

Melanie has co-authored the health textbook, Comprehensive Health, being used in her health classes. Goodheart-Willcox published the book in late 2014. Melanie was one of the original four Health Education Assessment Project (HEAP) trainers for the state of Pennsylvania. Melanie currently teaches an online Health Education course through Eduspire that teaches the SHAPE America's Best Practices in Health Education.

In addition to her teaching duties, Melanie has served on her school's SAP (Student Assistance Program) team for the past twenty years, implementing programs to educate every new teacher in her district on the dangers of eating disorders and how to identify students struggling with food and weight issues.

Joe Weaver

Joe graduated in 2006 from Lenoir Rhyne University, located in Hickory, NC, with a bachelor's degree in K-12 Physical Education. He has been employed by Catawba County Schools for the past twelve years and is currently teaching grades K-6 at Balls Creek Elementary School in Newton, NC. He enjoys teaching at Balls Creek where he has a diverse population of students with various physical fitness strengths and interests.

Joe is the recipient of the 2015 Norm Leafe Elementary Physical Education Teacher of the Year by the North Carolina Physical Education Association, the 2017 Dr. Bob Blackburn Jump Rope for Heart Coordinator of the Year Award, the 2018 Puckett-Merriman Award, and he was a finalist for the 2018 JoAnn Spees Youth Advocacy Award.

He is passionate about learning from and sharing his knowledge with other physical educators. Joe is a member of the US Games Presenters Network and is an OPEN National Trainer. He enjoys attending and presenting at conferences and workshops across the country.

Sunday Sessions

Description: Activity presentation of a variety of African dances that can be taught in Elementary, Middle or High school.

Storytelling in the Health and Physical Education Classroom

Location: Athena G-H

Lead Presenter: Lesley Corley

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: I am going to share my experience from the 2018 Summer Teacher Institute at the National Art Gallery in Washington, DC. Where digital storytelling is used to integrate Visual, Verbal, Kinesthetic and Auditory for the multiple learning styles in the classroom and digital stories can be used in a range of disciplines and cross-curricular purposes. They offer the advantages of an experiential approach to learning in today's multimedia.

Plug and Play Fitness Tools

Location: Grand Hall 1-3

Lead Presenter: Brian Devore

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: Looking for innovative ways to help students prepare themselves for Georgia's annual FitnessGram assessment? Check out these new activities that focus on fitness, offer a cognitive component, vocabulary, and opportunities for differentiation in grades 3-8!

Mind using your mind? Activities that Challenge Student's Bodies and Minds.

Location: Grand Hall 4-5

Lead Presenter: Eric Homansky

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: From instant activities to whole class lessons academics can easily be pushed in to your physical education curriculum. Whether it's math, spelling, social studies or reading I'm sure you will find something useful to do during the your next class.

Sunday Sessions

1:00 PM – 2:50 PM

Self-Management - The Key to Effective Time Management

Location: Athena I

Lead Presenter: Peter Vajda

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: Time management is never – ever – about time. In spite of all the time management tools and techniques with which we're bombarded daily, we don't seem to be improving on the efficiency with which we live our lives.

2:00 PM – 2:50 PM

Empowering Students Implementing the Sports Education Model

Location: Athena E

Lead Presenter: Eric Martin

Co-Presenter(s): Kristen Cross

Description: The Sports Educational Model provides students leadership skills while teaching numerous team sports. Students lead by instructing classmates in coaching, leading warm-ups, refereeing, score keeping and publicizing. See it in action as we apply the Sports Educational Model to the #1 sport in the world "Soccer".

Instant Activities for HS HPE

Location: Athena F

Learning, Take it Personally

Location: Grand Hall 1-3

Lead Presenter: Ann Van Loo

Co-Presenter(s): Jana Paulk

Description: We will present how to teach a Pickleinton unit using the Personalized System of Instruction (PSI) Model. The PSI model allows students to learn at their own pace, teach each other, and peer assess. This allows the teacher to provide meaningful feedback and facilitate student learning throughout the unit.

Check out the GAHPERD website at www.gahperd.org!

Sunday Sessions

2:00 PM – 2:50 PM

Tinikling: The Easy Way

Location: Grand Hall 4-5

Lead Presenter: Renee Califf

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: I have taught Tinikling for close to 30 years. During this session, I hope to encourage and motivate new and veteran teachers to teach Tinikling to their students. I have a simple method of teaching the timing and steps that my students used and caught on very quickly. Tinikling is a great rhythmic activity and can be a vigorous cardio workout for the students. I will teach the steps, how to move the poles and many different routines.

Promoting Movement in the Classroom

Location: Parthenon

Lead Presenter: Christy Crowley

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: Research shows that movement and exercise improve learning. Unfortunately, many classroom teachers and administrators are not aware of this connection. As physical educators, it's our responsibility to help educate them. This session will provide you with information and ideas for promoting movement that you can share with classroom teachers at your school.

3:00 PM – 3:50 PM

Dice, Dice Baby

Location: Grand Hall 1-3

Lead Presenter: Gabe Ervin

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: “Dice, Dice Baby” is a presentation on how different types of dice can be utilized and implemented in your PE program. Many of the activities presented will be unique and out of the ordinary. Students of all elementary ages will find these activities fun and physically engaging. All activities have been kid test and approved! Not only will these activities meet national standards, but they will also integrate math concepts into your classroom. Addition, subtraction, multiplication and division are just few of the different math concepts to be covered throughout the presentation. Activities will range from dice warm ups to full dice games. Many of the dice activities presented have easy or minimal set up, making them easy to implement quickly in your own gymnasiums. This presentation will show participants how a simple, low cost, easy to find material such as dice can supplement their PE program. Additional equipment and items used to supplement the dice activities can either be made or purchased at a minimum cost from local dollar stores making this session a must for PE programs on a budget. The “Dice, Dice Baby” presentation is guaranteed to get your PE program “rolling”!

Monday Sessions

10:30 AM – 11:20 AM

Changing Students' Minds from Sadness to Gladness in Elementary PE

Location: Athena E

Lead Presenter: Anne Merrem

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: Elementary PE teachers often work with students who are unable to understand their own emotions. These students are frequently not skilled in changing their mental-emotional state. PE teachers have a great opportunity to help students understand the connection between body and mind, the joy students can gain from physical exercise and the ability they have to “change their mind.” Participants in this session will receive a few examples for how to help their students to change their mind. In small groups, they will then have the opportunity to develop conversational models to try with their students.

Welcome to HyPEd Up! Taking Physical Education Games to the Next Level

Location: Athena F

Lead Presenter: J.D. Hughes

Blue, Yellow, Red: Zone Colors in Action

Location: Athena F

Lead Presenter: Joe Gooden

Co-Presenter(s): Deb Berkey

Description: When directing students to increase their activity intensity and movement time, most teachers use either rating of perceived exertion or verbal descriptors such as “go harder” or “pick it up”. In this activity-based session, participants will learn to use real live data from heart rate sensors or step trackers for movement data, to self-regulate the effort of their activity. Both of these wearables, heart rate monitors or step tracker ankle bands provide objective and continuous stream of displayed data that shows the participant is in the low, easy Blue zone, the moderate and weight-loss Yellow zone, or the high-hot-hard calorie burning Red zone. Participants will be challenged to participate in the challenging game of ZONING in which they must do activities from jump rope to circuit activities in each of the three (Blue/Yellow/Red) zones.

Fitness and Fun for Third Graders: An Initiative by HPE Students from Georgia Southern University – Armstrong Campus

Location: Athena G-H

Lead Presenter: Lynn Roberts

Co-Presenter(s): Jane Lynes and Greg O’Hara

Description: Let us share how we have combined our HPE Majors with 375 third graders to produce an awesome event! This presentation is designed to give participants a step by step plan of our collaborative process. Our Majors plan and implement stations emphasizing cardiovascular endurance, flexibility, and muscular strength/endurance for groups of approximately 20-25. This opportunity gives majors a chance to work directly with students and to “think on their feet”, making adjustments as needed. This provides our students an opportunity for practical application and reflection.

Fountain Of Youth School

Location: Parthenon

Lead Presenter: Stephanie Lawson

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: I had a dream that turned into a vision to create a health behavior intervention in Georgia. I want to take a low performing school and turn it into the healthiest school in the Georgia. This involves research, theory, grant writing, and staff to support the school. If students are healthy, they will perform better academically, and I want to prove this to administrators and key stakeholders in Education. We share core values to improve the overall health of children and I want your feedback to create this healthy school called the Fountain of Youth.

Been There Done That?: Playing Experience and Coaching Confidence.

Location: Athena I

Lead Presenter: Charles "Hal" Wilson

Co-Presenter(s): Drew Zwald and Dan Czech

Description: Coaching confidence, or efficacy, is an important aspect of coach effectiveness and development. Feltz, Chase, Moritz, & Sullivan (1999) defined coaching efficacy as coaches having confidence in their ability to encourage learning and performance of their athletes. One of the many factors that can impact coaching efficacy is playing experience- especially for young coaches. We will discuss the potential impact of playing experience at both the high school and college levels on coaching efficacy using a sample of students from the undergraduate minor in coaching education at Georgia Southern University as a starting point of our discussion.

The Kinesthetic Classroom Experience

Location: Athena I

Lead Presenter: Mia Oberlton

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: This year at KSU we debuted our kinesthetic classroom. The classroom has strider desks, bicycle desks, stepper desks, and wobble chairs as an alternative to the traditional lecture classroom with just table and chairs. We wanted to be on the cutting edge of implementing new classroom technology based on the limited research that suggests that moving improves cognitive function and helps to reduce BMI. We have seen that the equipment has helped to keep our students more focused and engaged in the content. I would like to present on my experience teaching in the classroom along with highlighting student experiences.

Activities That Will Be A “HIT” With Your Students

Location: Grand Hall 1-3

Lead Presenter: Gabe Ervin

Co-Presenter(s): Joe Weaver

Description: This session includes activities that introduce students to the critical skills and movement patterns that are essential to sports like softball, baseball, cricket and many others. Purposeful activities provide fun and challenge for skill development while also introducing foundational concepts, strategies, and tactics. This session will demonstrate different striking activities that will most certainly be a “HIT” among students of all elementary ages. Many of the presented activities require minimal equipment that most PE programs already have and set up times for each of the activities is minimal. Activities range from striking skill development to small sided striking games. With these activities your PE program won’t “strike” out.

Establishing Inclusion

Location: Athena I

Lead Presenter: Elisha Nixon Cobb, PhD. Associate Professor, Retired

Co-Presenter(s):

Description: As teachers we embrace two challenges: to create with learners a genuine community and to promote justice and equality in the society at large. Feelings of cultural isolation often deteriorates student motivation to learn. An alternative to lecturing or assigning the same reading to every student is a procedure for structuring cooperative learning groups called the Jigsaw Procedure. This procedure is useful in establishing the foundation for inclusion.

Special thanks to all of our exhibitors. Please make the time to visit each booth and learn about their products and services. The GAHPERD Convention would not be successful without the support of our exhibitors!

Elementary Physical Education Teacher of the Year

Katie Snyder

Katie Snyder graduated from Georgia College and State University with a degree in Community Health and Human Services. She continued her education at Georgia College with a Masters of Arts and Teaching degree in Kinesiology and Physical Education. This will be Coach Snyder's 6th year in Fulton County Schools and her third year as the lead Physical Education Teacher at River Eves. She is also the Head Coach of the Varsity Girls Soccer team at Roswell High School. She believes that the most important aspect of being a teacher is investing in students and building caring, supportive relationships. In her PE class, beyond learning about skills and fitness, she teaches life skills such as respect, responsibility, and kindness. This drives her philosophy of creating a positive, welcoming, and safe environment for students to learn about physical education.

Adaptive Physical Education Teacher of the Year

Bethany Chapple

Bethany is an Adapted PE teacher at Lake Windward Elementary in Fulton County. She is in her sixth-year of teaching. Bethany has obtained a Master of Education degree from Georgia State University in physical education. Bethany's mission is to provide a safe learning environment that allows ALL students to explore movement and gross motor skills in a fun and engaging way for lifelong health. Bethany is a health and fitness enthusiast. She enjoys being active and coaching the Atlanta Hawks Stunt team.

Award Recipients

K-12 Health Teacher of the Year

Rhonda Murray

Rhonda Murray is a committed health educator for her students, colleagues, their families, and the community by sharing her passion for health education and wellness. Rhonda is a native of Augusta, Ga where she earned her Bachelor of Science Degree in Health and Physical Education from Augusta State University. Rhonda is a six-teen year veteran in education and began her teaching career as an elementary health and physical education teacher in Richmond County. After relocating to the Atlanta Metro area, Rhonda served the students of Clayton County Schools on both elementary and high school levels as a teacher and devoted coach. She is currently a health educator at Woodland Middle School in Fulton County where she thoroughly enjoys dedicating herself to her students and colleagues as the Health and Physical Education Department Chair, Wellness Committee Coordinator and Garden Club Advisor. Rhonda earned her Education Specialist in Curriculum and Instruction from Georgia College and State University, and her Master's Degree in Adult Literacy and Education from Central Michigan University. Rhonda thrives on helping others; and sharing her love for health education and wellness with as many people as she can, which is paramount to her “healthy you, healthy me” motto for life. She volunteers with various ministries in her church and several homeless shelters in her Atlanta neighborhood. Traveling and attending Braves games are just a few of her favorite things to do with her family and friends. As a member of both Georgia Association of Health Physical Education Recreation and Dance (GAHPERD) and Society of Health and Physical Education (SHAPE), Rhonda is very honored to represent health educators as this year's recipient and she looks forward to many years of serving and helping to promote health education and making this world healthier for everyone.

Undergraduate Student Scholarship Award

Jessica Roda

Jessica Roda is a student at Kennesaw State University completing her senior year. She is Vice President of Kennesaw State University's Health and Physical Education Major's Club, and Secretary for the Kennesaw State Women's Club Soccer team. Award Recipients

Recreation Specialists of the Year

Amy Aenchbacher & Dave Martinez

Amy Aenchbacher and David Martinez have coached and coordinated Special Olympics for the Cherokee County community for over 15 years. Cherokee County Special Olympics provides year-round sports training, athletic competition, and recreational opportunities for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. As coordinators, their goal is to help bring persons with intellectual disabilities into the larger society under conditions whereby they are accepted, respected, and given the chance to become useful and productive citizens.

Under the leadership of Amy Aenchbacher and Dave Martinez, the Cherokee County Special Olympics has established an official partnership with Cherokee County School District. Because of this partnership extra-curricular athletics and inclusive sports opportunities are available for students with intellectual disabilities. Additionally, Special Olympians can participate in seasonal sports banquets and earn varsity letters from their respective high schools.

Cherokee County Special Olympics is a 100% community volunteer program that is proud to offer opportunities in 12 Olympic-type sports at no charge to the athletes. In addition to traditional Special Olympics sports, Cherokee County Special Olympics offers Unified Sport. Unified Sports is initiative that brings people with and without intellectual disabilities living in the same community together on the same team to compete. This recreation program promotes social inclusion in the Cherokee County community through shared sports training and competition experiences. Their Unified Softball team is a two-time National Championship winner.
